

2018 Dissemination & Implementation Science Workshop: Key Factors for Developing Strong Grant Proposals

SPONSORED BY THE GREAT PLAINS IDEA-CTR NETWORK, CENTRIC, AND UNMC COLLEGE OF PUBLIC HEALTH
DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH PROMOTIONS

August 6th & 7th, 2018

8:00 am–4:00 pm & 8:00 am–12:30 pm

UNMC Center for Drug Discovery and Lozier Center for Pharmacy Sciences and Education

This workshop will cover:

- Current Issues and Areas Ripe for Study
 - Picking and Applying a Dissemination & Implementation Science Theory
- Practical measures for assessing correlates of adoption and implementation
- How much evidence is needed before conducting a D&I project
- Implementation Context in Rural Primary Care Settings
 - Costing out an evidence-based intervention and your implementation strategies: Tools for assessment
 - Population Health and Dissemination and Implementation Science: An example in rural Nebraska

Workshop Facilitators and Speakers:

- Russell Glasgow, PhD
Research Professor, Family Medicine
International Leader in Implementation Science, University of Colorado School of Medicine, Denver, CO
- David Dzewaltowski, PhD
Community Chair and Professor
Health Promotions,
University of Nebraska Medical Center College of Public Health
- Paul Estabrooks, PhD
Professor, Health Promotions
University of Nebraska Medical Center College of Public Health,
Omaha, NE
- Edward Ellerbeck, MD
Professor, Preventive Medicine &
Public Health
Kansas University Medical Center,
Kansas City, KS
- Christie Befort, PhD
Associate Professor, Preventive
Medicine & Public Health
Kansas University Medical Center,
Kansas City, KS

PLEASE REGISTER BY July 30th, 2018
There is a $150.00 fee for this workshop.

To register, go to: <https://cmetracker.net/UNMC/Login?formname=RegLoginLive&EventID=36599>

For questions, contact Sean Navarrete – sean.navarrete@unmc.edu or 402.559.9322

