

Monday, August 25, 2017 | 12:00 pm - 1:00 pm
College of Nursing (CON) 2020

Health Status of Great Plains Region: The Roles of Population-Based Health Indicators in Clinical Translational Research

PRESENTED BY THE GREAT PLAINS IDeA-CTR NETWORK

Shinobu Watanabe-Galloway, PhD
Associate Professor and Vice Chair
Department of Epidemiology
Co-Director, Clinical Research Design,
Epidemiology and Biostatistics KCA

This presentation will address:

- What is clinical translational research and what is Great Plains IDeA-CTR?
- What are population-based health indicators?
- What are roles of population-based health indicators in clinical translational research?
- How is the Great Plains-IDeA-CTR region doing?
- How do we access county-level population health indicators?

Join live stream by clicking here:

http://www.unmc.edu/livevideo/unmc_live4.html

Trouble viewing? Call 402-559-8090

Archive location: <http://hml.unmc.edu>

Search: BMI/CTR Lecture Series

gpctr.unmc.edu | 402.552.2260

The Great Plains IDeA-CTR Network is a collaboration between 9 institutions: UNMC, UNK, UNL, UNO, BTNRH, University of North Dakota, North Dakota State University, University of South Dakota and Kansas University Medical Center.